WHO SHOT JOHNNY ROCK?

Who Shot Johnny Rock? is a groundbreaking DVD release that allows you to play a fully interactive version of the classic laser-disc arcade shooting game using your controller.

THE OBJECT

She calls herself "Red", and you know she's trouble as soon as she walks in your office. "I'm in trouble and I need your help," she tells you. You make your first mistake...you tell her that you'll listen! Now you're the hired Private Detective on the prowl for clues in the murder of Singer/performer, Johnny Rock. It's up to you to bring the killer to justice and solve one of your toughest cases.

"Mumps", "Measles", "Pots", and "Lockjaw Lil" are your four prime suspects in the case. Navigate the back streets of Chicago, gaming halls, funeral parlors and dirty sections of the city. Gather clues to Johnny Rock's safe combination and nail the murderer while taking care of gangsters that get in your way. Watch your back though...or you'll end up a corpse...just like Johnny Rock!

MENUS

To start the game, simply place the Who Shot Johnny Rock? disc in your DVD player. The introduction video will play which may be skipped by pressing the Enter button. Once the menu appears, you may select one of the choices by using your controller. The options include:

Play

This menu selection allows you to play the full version of Who Shot Johnny Rock? using your remote to control the targeting of your gun. You will be asked to select "Wimp" or "Ace". The "Wimp" selection will give you more time to move the gun-sight on the screen before the shot must be made. This difficulty setting may be the only level possible on some DVD players with Infra-Red remote controllers as they typically don't respond as fast as controllers that are directly connected to the DVD player (such as the PlayStation 2).

CONTROLS

When in a situation where you need to use your gun, a gun-sight will appear on the screen. Use the directional buttons for the directions left, right, up and down and use "Enter" to fire your gun. There are many variations on the naming and placement of these buttons between different DVD controllers but the directional buttons will be the same ones that allow you to move between menu items when the menu is displayed and the "Enter" button (sometimes called "Play") will be the button that selects a menu option.

PAUSING THE GAME

You can pause and resume the game using the "Pause" and "Play" buttons.

STOPPING THE GAME

Pressing the Stop button will generally stop the game and turn the DVD Player off. Starting the game again (typically by pressing Play) will continue where you left off. In this case, the Who Shot Johnny Rock? disc must be left in the player.

To quit the current game and return to the main selection menu, press Title.

PLAYING THE GAME

When playing Who Shot Johnny Rock? remember that you must very quickly move your gun-sight when it appears on the screen, which you can do by repeatedly pressing the directional arrows on your controller. When your sight is in the position where you want to shoot, press the Enter button and the sight will change to a bullet hole. If you have shot in the correct place, the game will continue, otherwise you will die.

When the game begins, you will meet "Red" and then receive a telegram. When the gun-sight appears, move it quickly to the right so that it is over top of the person delivering the telegram and then press Enter to fire. If you are successful with the shot, the story will continue and you will have to shoot one of two people delivering flowers/hiding a gun.

If the telegram messenger continually shoots you, you are either not positioning your sight in the correct location or you are not pressing Enter soon enough. Try again but position the sight in a different location and make sure you see the bullet hole when the Enter key is pressed. If you find that you are continually dying at a certain point in the game then you know that you must make a move just before this point. Take note of where the shooter is on the screen when you die and next time through, try positioning the sight and firing at that position on the screen. Remember not to shoot the innocent bystanders!

You are given $2,000 to start and the doctor will cost you $400 for each time he has to patch you up so you initially have five lives. You can receive more money by correctly shooting your lucky number in bonus rounds that are played when you defeat a section of the game (listen for hints on where to go to find the bonuses). Once you have run out of money, you will be given a chance of continuing the game.

On some systems when you press a key when the gun-sight is not displayed (which means it's not time for a move yet) you will get a message on your screen saying the key press is not being accepted. This shouldn't affect the game.

To defeat the game, you will have to collect four clues and then use them in Johnny Rock's mansion to find the combination to his safe, where you'll uncover a clue to his murderer.

Typically there will be a short pause in the video whenever a move is made. The duration of this pause varies from machine to machine but currently there is nothing that can be done to eliminate it. We're hopeful that future generations of DVD movie players will be optimized to handle this situation and will eliminate the pause.

All of the scenes from the original game are included in this DVD-Video version.

HINTS

The following may help you if you find you are getting stuck at certain areas of the game. We suggest you don't read any further in this section until you have played the game and only then if you find you are having trouble getting through a certain area of the game.

When playing the Casino, Mansion and other scenes that have enemies popping up at random locations, try to recenter your gun-sight after every successful shot you take so that you are in better position to move for the next shot.

Some DVD players may have trouble accurately allowing you to shoot the combination of Johnny Rock's safe. If this is the case, use the code 1, 6, 1, 6 and you should be able to get through.

Troubleshooting

If you are having troubles getting the game started or seeing any video, make sure to switch your TV so that it displays the video from your DVD-Video player. Also, make sure to select the DVD input in your A/V receiver especially when you have a controller that controls several different devices in addition to DVD player such as your television or audio system.
